1 Opportunities for Field Study and Study Abroad

Besides the many academic resources McGill offers on campus, there are also unparalleled opportunities to enrich your educational experience through exchange programs, internships, field study programs, and McGill courses taught off-campus and abroad. The following sections provide information regarding opportunities in the following categories:

- section 2: Field Study Semesters and Off-Campus Courses – participate in programs and courses offered by McGill University in local, regional, and international settings as a complement to classroom learning.
- section 3: Internships and Co-op Programs – participate in partnerships offered through McGill to gain valuable on-the-job knowledge in your field.
- section 4: Exchange Programs – study at one of McGill's partner universities while earning credit at McGill, and paying McGill tuition.
- section 5: Study Away On Your Own – study away at another university while earning credit at McGill. Tuition is paid directly to the host university.

2 Field Study Semesters and Off-Campus Courses

McGill offers you a chance to put theory into practice through local, regional, and international field study semesters and individual courses. Field studies provide practical experience and a chance to integrate and apply knowledge gained in the classroom. In many cases, field courses can be counted toward major program requirements. You should see your adviser for details.

Field Study Semesters are packages of McGill courses aimed at upper-year students that focus on the physical and social aspects of the environment. They are offered in various regions around the world in the Summer, Fall, or Winter terms. Currently, Field Study Semesters are offered in East Africa (Kenya, Uganda, and Tanzania; see section 2.1.1: Africa Field Study Semester), the Canadian Arctic (Axel Heiberg Island; see section 2.1.2: Arctic Field Study Semester), Barbados (see section 2.1.3: Barbados Field Study Semester and section 2.1.4: Barbados Interdisciplinary Tropical Studies Field Semester), and Panama (see section 2.1.5: Panama Field Study Semester). Enrolment is limited, and application deadlines and costs vary, so you should consult the relevant sections of this publication for details. If you are interested in participating, you should begin planning your courses before the Field Study semester, as some of the field courses may require prerequisites.

Students participating in any one of the field study semesters, i.e., the Africa Field Study Semester (AFSS), the Arctic Field Study Semester (MAFS), the Barbados Field Study Semester (BFSS), the Barbados Interdisciplinary Tropical Studies (BITS) Field Study Semester, or the Panama Field Study Semester (PFSS), may complete the 18-credit Minor in Field Studies. See section 2.1: Field Study Minor for details.

Off-campus McGill courses are also offered to you and sometimes require separate departmental application. The courses are typically offered during the summer months and can be offered in places as varied as Italy, Mexico, or Brazil and in disciplines in Arts, Engineering (including Architecture), Science, Law, or Management. See section 2.3: Off-Campus Courses.

3 Internships and Co-op Programs

For information on internships and co-op programs, refer to Univer

Students can begin the transfer of credits process once they have registered at the host school and have obtained course syllabi. For more detailed information, students should consult their faculty Student Affairs Office. Transfer credits process should be completed within the shortest delay possible after the end of the exchange term.

Before leaving the host institution, students should order two (2) copies of the official transcript for their files, and ensure that the institution sends an official version of the transcript to Service Point at McGill (www.mcgill.ca/servicepoint).

5 Study Away On Your Own

If you want to study as a Visiting student at a university with which McGill does not have a student exchange agreement, you must consult the Student Affairs Office of your McGill faculty, as well as the Admissions Office of the university to which you are applying regarding application requirements. You would pay tuition to the host institution.

Contact information for your faculty's Student Affairs Office is available at www.mcgill.ca/students/advising/advisordirectory.

6 Financial Assistance

Awards and financial assistance are available to students to help with the cost of participating in an exchange or field study semester. Further information, as well as application deadlines and eligibility, can be found in the following sections and on the McGill Abroad website.

6.1 Exchange Awards and Funding

Students participating in an official McGill University exchange program are eligible to apply for government student assistance as a McGill student, but are not eligible for McGill Student Aid. Students who “study away on their own” are not eligible to receive government student loans through McGill because they are not registered at McGill. Students should verify with the institution they will be attending whether or not they will be eligible to receive government student assistance.

Further information, as well as application deadlines and eligibility, can be found on the McGill Abroad website.
